Experts in voice technology and artificial intelligence established Mediavoice, a Research and Innovation enterprise, in 2000. During the years Mediavoice has engineered and patented several advanced technological solutions and gained important recognition.

Mediavoice's mission is to revolutionize the human-machine interface through intelligent voice technology, thus allowing everybody to access the digital world in the easiest and most natural way: through their voice.

Mediavoice is among the most innovative producers of assistive technology. It has engineered Speaky Facile, a new platform of products with an easy and accessible interface. Speaky Facile grows constantly with new applications, services and contents, in Italy and abroad.
